

Using your planner

Mapping your assessment and other commitments helps you identify and prepare for your busiest weeks and capitilise on your slower weeks.

- Mark important work, family or leisure commitments
- Mark all due dates for your assessment tasks on your wall planner.
- Identify key milestones. It may help to work backwards. For example: Analyse task < Brainstorm
 - < Research < Plan < Write < Edit/Proofread < Submit
- Set and mark deadlines for each milestone on your wall planner.

START now to build career confidence

Take charge of your career! Get a head-start by gaining experience relevant to your future. Learn more about yourself. Identify, accept and create opportunities to grow your skills and knowledge.

Self awareness

Essential to effectively manage your career. To build self-awareness, consider the following:

Interests: What do you enjoy doing? What are you good at? What motivates you?

Values: What is important to you? (E.g. family, money, balance, achievement, training etc.)

Personality: What is your personality style? (Try the selfassessment tools in the CareerSuccess resources.) Skills: You already possess a range of valuable employability

Try new opportunities
