

HEA introduction video transcript

Advance HE Fellowship provides international recognition for both professional and academic staff who support teaching and learning in higher education. Undertaking the process to attain a Fellowship represents a commitment to excellence in teaching and learning in higher education. By partnering with Advance HE as an international member, SCU has made an institutional commitment to provide support, professional development and recognition to staff members throughout their time at the university. This aligns with SCU's 'Outstanding People' strategic priority.

The advantages of HEA Fellowship include:

- International recognition of your expertise.
- Enhanced career prospects.
- Opportunities for reflective practice and professional growth through Global Member Projects.
- Access to a global network (Advance HE Connect) of higher education professionals and a regular newsletter with news and collaborative activities.
- Access to Global Impact research grants.
- Mentoring and collegial support.
- It promotes interdisciplinary research.
- Recognition of your commitment to high-quality teaching and learning, with the entitlement to use post-nominal letters (AFHEA, FHEA, SFHEA or PFHEA)

HEA Fellowship information, upcoming workshops details and HEA resources for staff are all available from the CTL website, scan the QR code to view them and remember to contact CTL if you require more information.